Accommodations:

Contact the Sheraton Hotel before June 1, 2005 to receive discounted room rates when you mention the curriculum mapping conference.

Curriculum mapping is a dynamic tool for writing, analyzing and communicating about curriculum. This conference is an opportunity to learn about mapping and how it connects with sound assessment strategies and other data driven decision making processes. In this two- or three-day conference participants will learn:

- how to discuss, revise and sustain curriculum mapping
- how to design, expand and enter assessments into the maps
- how to make connections between standardized test results and mapping data for systemic change
- how to examine implications for NCLB

Dr. Bena Kallick has served as an education consultant to schools and educational organizations nationally and internationally. She is well known for her work building learning organizations. Her team work with Heidi Hayes Jacobs has brought mapping to a new level of integration into the system. She co-authored with Arthur Costa, Assessment in the Learning Organization and Habits of Mind, all published by ASCD.

Dr. Susan Udelhofen is an experienced classroom teacher and national staff development provider. Her practical presentation style presents the step-by-step approach to curriculum mapping that is based on the work of Dr. Heidi Hayes Jacobs. Her new book Keys to Curriculum Mapping: Strategies and Tools to Make It Work, published by Corwin Press (available April 2005) will be included with the conference fee.

PRE-CONFERENCE: Curriculum Mapping 101 Monday, June 27

Presented by Dr. Udelhofen and will include the basics steps of curriculum mapping for people new to mapping or those wanting a refresher.

INSTITUTE: Curriculum Mapping Tues. & Wed. June 28, 29

Two-day featured keynote addresses and workshops with Dr. Kallick and Dr. Udelhofen, presentations by teachers and administrators who are implementing curriculum mapping. Also curriculum mapping software demonstrations.
